

Music activity for young people and adults

Just in case you've managed to work your way through all of the activities we've shared on our website so far, here are some links to some other resources we think you might enjoy! We are busy creating lots of new activities - for regular updates follow us on Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter.

Music Mark

Music Mark has a fantastic range of resources and activities that can support you to continue music-making at home, with sections dedicated to early years, primary and secondary school children.

Bring the Noise

Bring the Noise has lots of brilliant music-making ideas and challenges for children of all ages, parents and teachers, from animal raps to found sounds.

BBC Ten Pieces

A range of useful resources for teachers from BBC's Ten Pieces national initiative, opening up the world of classical music for 7-14 year olds. Explore exciting films, lesson plans, instrumental arrangements and live events.

BBC Bitesize

BBC Bitesize is a great resource for curriculum-based learning, from KS1 to Higher Music level.

Drake Music

The Drake Music Think 22 team have been working hard on creating a free guide to using iPads as instruments for creative music-making.

Minute of Listening

Be quiet. Be still. Let Minute of Listening take you from Beethoven to Bjork, Chicago to Sudan, cityscapes to sandy shores.